

“Retire? Not yet. I’m only 80 years old.”

At 80, George Lengvari may have an edge on the competition when it comes to experience, but it's his dedication and professionalism that won him Manulife Financial's Top Producer in the World award for 1995. George's company, Lengvari Financial Inc, is a national firm of estate and benefit consultants, life insurance and annuity brokers. Manulife, Canada's largest insurance-based financial services company, also operates in 16 other countries, which makes George's achievement all the more remarkable. Congratulations George! We're proud to be associated with you and wish you every success in the second half of your career.
